Some people says that doing sports outside is much better than doing sports inside. And who is right?

Well, doing sports on the fresh air is more enjoyable than doing sports inside of the gym because it's good for health especially for our lungs. But if the weather is cold, people can get sick and die, so in this situation doing sports inside of the warm gym is the best choice. Of course, when the question about <sup>the</sup> costs comes out, doing sports inside will be more cheaper than the first option. But sport on the fresh air will be worth of it.

In my opinion, the answer for this question depends from the people themselves. Someone will do sports outside if they wants that and someone will do sports inside if they wants that too. The man, who suffers from health problems obviously will choose a gym. Because if he will do sports outside, he get sick.

In conclusion, this answer is a trap. There is no right answer.
